Open Donor: Noah

Staff Impression

Noah is the epitome of boyish good looks, with short dirty-blonde hair, kind hazel eyes, and symmetrical facial features. His build is medium, and he stays in fantastic shape from sports and also being blessed with a phenomenal metabolism. His complexion is smooth and clear, with just a freckle or two. Noah makes yet another attractive addition to our selection of donors.

Charming, polite, intelligent, and passionate, Noah is a young man with big goals and ideas. He excels at math and physics, and therefore is a student of engineering, in which he plans to get at least a Bachelor's degree. Athletically gifted, Noah also plans to participate in an Iron Man triathlon in the near future. He loves his family and wants one of his own one day. He would make a great donor for any family.
