

Cassian stands tall at 6'2" with a large athletic build and medium skin. He has cheery green-brown eyes and an inviting smile. He is the perfect balance of mental acuity and charm. You will find him backpacking in the great outdoors one day and sitting quietly reading a book on others.

It is admirable how much he has accomplished thus far in his life. He has traveled around the world, excelled in athletics, passionate about academia and a student at a prestigious university. Cassian's outlook on life is very mature and would be considered an "old soul." He is mindful and appreciates the little things in life. He is a deep thinker who enjoys exploring new topics and fields of study. He is an exceptionally well-rounded individual and a fantastic option as a donor.
