

Nevada 10617

Nevada is an intelligent, wise, and thoughtful guy who inspires us all. He has dark hair and brown eyes, with a complimenting brow bone. He currently works at a Biotech company, and his work with molecular biology is admirable. In a short time, Nevada has accomplished so much in his life, and with his drive and resilience, he has mastered a plan to retire early. Our conversations with Nevada are profound and we are often captivated by his well-spoken attitude and new ideas.

When he is not busy working with molecules, he enjoys learning new recipes to cook and maintaining an athletic, healthy lifestyle. Nevada may be quiet and introverted, but he is a man on a mission to save the world and we are grateful to have him in our program.
