Donor Jung-Hoon

Donor Jung-Hoon is incredibly intelligent, considerate of others, has a witty sense of humor and would describe himself as an introverted extrovert. He is slender, fluent in Korean as his native language and has brown eyes with wavy hair. He has a medium build and a lean, slender physic.

Donor Jung-Hoon is ambitious, and creative as he is currently a doctoral student majoring in Cello Performance. Donor Jung-Hoon has a goal-oriented mindset, as he hopes to teach and profess to other music students in the future at a collegiate level. He has a humble demeanor and a calm persona, but also a sense of adventure and enjoys hiking to keep himself fit. We feel lucky to have him in our program!
