

Berthold 10889 Staff Impression

Berthold stands at 5'7" with a slim yet athletic build. His dark brown, short wavy hair is neatly kept, complementing his full, well-groomed eyebrows. His round, dark brown eyes are accented by thick lashes, and their intensity is striking—he carries an air of deep focus and determination. His aquiline nose, slightly hooked, lends unique character to his features. Together, these traits give him a presence that is both composed and compelling.

Berthold is an energetic and multifaceted individual. As an electrical engineer, he thrives on solving complex problems with a meticulous and determined approach. His analytical mind is balanced by his physical agility—he dabbles in parkour, often challenging himself to master new moves with the same focus he applies to his work. In his downtime, Berthold loves to dance with his girlfriend, and the two take ballroom and Latin dance classes together, where his natural rhythm shines. A huge Star Wars fan, he's just as likely to debate the intricacies of the Jedi Code as he is to rewatch his favorite scenes. Berthold enjoys the solitude and freedom of being in his truck, cruising to the sound of classic rock, which gives him a moment of reflection. Despite his intensity and drive, he has a goofy, lighthearted side that endears him to those around him, making him someone who can tackle challenges with both passion and a sense of humor.
