

Bach 10896 Staff Impression

Bach is a tall and strong man, standing at 6 feet with a muscular build and broad shoulders that give him a powerful presence. His brown hair is always neatly side-swept. His square-shaped head gives him a distinctive look, accentuated by a button nose that contrasts with his otherwise bold features. His lips are unique—his full upper lip pairs with a smaller bottom one, giving his smile a playful touch. A light layer of facial hair frames his jawline, giving him a rugged look. Despite his imposing physique, there's an air of fun around him, as if he's always ready for a lighthearted adventure.

Bach is a fun-loving guy with big dreams and a lot of heart. Currently studying at a prestigious music school, he's aiming to land a spot in a top-tier orchestra as a professional bassoonist. His passion for music goes hand in hand with his love of self-improvement—whether he's diving into a new book or lifting weights at the gym, he's always working on his mind and body. Bach's got a strong aversion to scary movies, though; no amount of convincing will get him to sit through one! One of his favorite memories is visiting Dubai, where his dad taught school for a few years. The trip was a whirlwind of awe-inspiring experiences, and it's remained his favorite adventure to this day.
