

Thane 13179 Staff Impression

With a background in theatre and a passion for performance, Thane brings creativity, warmth, and a touch of whimsy to everything he does. Standing at 5'11" with dark brown curls and expressive brown eyes, he has a lean, athletic build that is a result of his active life as a performer. His face has a pleasant oval shape with youthful, well-balanced features that give him an approachable, friendly appearance. He has the effortless style of someone who understands how to dress well without looking like he's trying too hard.

Thane holds a degree in Theatre and works in the performing arts, where he also teaches skills like dance, trampoline, and juggling. A self-described “friendly introvert” and proud nerd, he’s known for his kindness, people-pleasing nature, and ability to see the good in others. He enjoys video games, mixology, and traveling, especially to places rich in culture and theatre. Whether he's playing trombone, acting in musicals, or exploring the British Isles solo, he brings a thoughtful, joyful energy to life. Thane’s dream is to one day perform in a Broadway show and continue building meaningful connections along the way.
