

Bartell 10873 Staff Impression

Bartell is a 5'10" bundle of fun with a strong, large build that matches his easygoing nature. His thick, wavy red hair is always styled just right, adding to his laid-back charm. With hooded round blue eyes that mesmerize and a face as clear as the fair skies, he has a look that's both inviting and friendly. His thin, straight lips are quick to crack a smile, and his celestial nose adds a touch of uniqueness to his appearance.

Bartell is a guy with a sky-high attitude and a heart full of positivity. He's currently training to become a pilot, ready to take on the skies with as much enthusiasm as he does everything else. Though he humbly claims he's no Picasso, Bartell still loves painting—more for the joy of creating than the final masterpiece. When he's not brushing up on his flying or his art, you'll find him scaling rock walls once or twice a month, or out in nature hiking, snowboarding, or tearing it up on his mountain bike. Raised with honesty as his golden rule, Bartell's as genuine as they come, whether he's up in the air or grounded in adventure!
