Cash has a masculine face, fair skin, striking blue eyes, and a neatly trimmed ginger beard. His shaved head highlights his clear features, including a straight nose and full lips. He stands at 6 feet tall with a medium, athletic build. His tidy, casual style fits his down-to-earth personality well.

Cash studied chemical engineering and performed well academically. He demonstrated his natural talent for math, mechanical problem-solving, and analytical thinking. From hands-on construction work to excelling in advanced courses, he has developed practical skills along with a love for athletics, including wrestling, martial arts, and team sports. His hobbies reflect a creative and active spirit. He enjoys experimenting with cooking, playing golf, surfing, and occasionally sketching for relaxation. Thoughtful and driven, Cash values deep connections and personal growth. He aims to make a positive impact in his community while balancing his career ambitions with meaningful relationships. Motivated by his experiences as a father, he donates to help others build the families they dream of.
